HOME RULERS IN MOOD FOR CHEERS

Home Rulers and persons filled with curiosity, to the number of 700 or 800, crowded about the band stand in Emma Square Saturday evening and for several hours listened to Home Rule oratory. It was a demonstration meeting, for there was plenty of shouting against Hanale and for Wilcox and Kalaauokalani opio.

Senator Kalaauokalani opened the meeting and told the people that the Home Rule party needed only unity, which would mean Wilcox for Congress and two-thirds of the Legislature. He asked each one to tell the people that the Home Rule party was not split.

Henry Huka and Kahaleiwi, men who live at the Kalihi camp, spoke in turn of unity and policy, the latter saying that the proper plan was to seem to be of the other parties until election, and then vote for the Home Rule candidates. Hanale talked of city and county government and the people would have none of him, for he has only recently come back after a period of Republicanism, and they jeered him off the stand.

Representative Mossman devoted three-quarters of an hour to telling the great things the Hawaiian representatives had done in the Legislature, and their clearance of bribery charges by the grand jury. He yelled once that a vote for Republicans was one for disfranchisement. He was discounted by John Poe, however, who said at the close of his speech that a Republican vote meant death.

Kalaauokalani, the younger, was listened to with earnestness. He summed up four great victories already won by Hawaiians as follows:

1. The election of Robert Wilcox as Delegate.
2. The success in Washington achieved by the Delegate in various matters pertaining to the Islands.
3. The annihilation of the enemies of the Hawaiians by Wilcox in Washington, showing to the President and Congress the true state of affairs.
4. The showing made which assures for good and all the right of the Hawaiian people to the franchise.

In words which left nothing in the way of superlatives unsaid, he told how the members of Congress always looked up to Wilcox and had faith in him, because God was with him.

Wilcox closed the meeting with a characteristic speech. He advised the people to stand together and said the young men of the Hui Kuokoa, who had become angry and gone wrong, would come back and be Home Rulers.

WILL NAME THE CONVENTION CITY

This evening the Republican Territorial committee will once more attack the question of the convention city for the party, and the outlook from the discussion of Saturday evening, is that the meeting for nominations will be held here. Owing to the absence of complete instructions from out-of-town members there was no vote taken.

When the meeting was called to order there were present seven members in person and eleven by proxy. The first business was the reading of letters. J. Castle Ridgway, F. B. McStocker and W. G. Walker wanted Hilo and H. L. Holstein and A. N. Kepolikai thought this city preferable. A letter from Olua told of the organization of a club with ninety-four members and $136 in its treasury.

J. P. Cooke moved that the convention be held here the first Monday of September. Clarence Crabbe moved to amend by the substitution of the name of Hilo and fixing the date as the first Thursday of September.

HUI KUOKOA IS PLANNING MEETING

Arrangements are being made by the committees of the Hui Kuokoa for a great mass meeting to be held Thursday of this week, at which time it is expected there will be made such speeches as will show the people just why the split has come in the Home Rule party, and what may be expected if the young men are supported in their fight for good government.

The publication of the address of the committee in charge of the organization of the new party has met with much approbation, and the men managing the campaign say they will have a large turnout when they get their meeting well under way. There has grown up a misunderstanding, however, which is causing some of them to desire an opportunity to put themselves straight before the people.

The leaders deny that there is any chance that they can come back and be members of the Home Rule party. They say that they do not mean that they would vote for the Home Rule candidates for the Legislature, but that they will vote for good men on whatever ticket, and they want every party to make nominations so that they can select the best men and endorse them, thus showing that they would live up to their name of Kuokoa. Many of the young men, however, are beginning to argue that there is greater need of reform here than at Washington, and they say they will work only for the election of high class men for the Legislature.

Reports coming back by the same ships which took away the members of the organization committees are that there will be a vast number of
